

MORE MARINES GOING TO MEXICO

Stronger Policy Indicated by Daniels's Order Shifting Isthmus Force.

LIND CHANGES VIEWS

Wholesale Desertions Occur in Huerta's Army Because of No Pay.

A NEW MOVE BY WILSON

Will Ask Huerta to Quit in Favor of Trevino, It Is Said.

Secretary Daniels has ordered 400 marines transferred from the Isthmus of Panama to the east coast of Mexico. This action, coupled with the increasing strength of the United States naval forces in the Caribbean, is regarded as foreshadowing a more aggressive policy in dealing with Mexico.

Other developments looking to a big demonstration against the Huerta regime are expected to follow soon.

Gen. Trevino, formerly an aspirant for the Presidency of Mexico, is said to be on his way to Mexico city as part of the reported plan of President Wilson to request Huerta to turn over the reins of government temporarily to Trevino.

Huerta will not resign, according to a despatch from Mexico city to THE SUN.

It is believed in Vera Cruz that John Lind, by direction of President Wilson, has upbraided Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy for his friendliness toward Huerta.

Wholesale desertions are taking place in Huerta's army because the soldiers have not received their pay.

TREVINO IN PLACE OF HUERTA.

Former's Trip to Mexico City Said to Be a Wilson Move.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. MEXICO CITY, Jan. 8.—Gen. Jeronimo Trevino, formerly one of the candidates for the Presidency of Mexico, is coming here from the northern part of the republic.

His trip is believed to be in cooperation with the plan of President Wilson to propose through Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy that Huerta resign and that Trevino assume the Presidency temporarily.

CENSURE FOR O'SHAUGHNESSY.

Vera Cruz Believes That's Secret of His Visit to Lind.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. VERA CRUZ, Jan. 8.—The conference between John Lind and Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American Charge d'Affaires at Mexico city, continued during the greater part of the day.

It is reported that although Mr. O'Shaughnessy came here only to talk with Mr. Lind about the latter's visit to President Wilson, there is good reason to believe that there is something further in the visit of the Charge d'Affaires.

It is believed that Mr. Lind has been instructed to upbraid Mr. O'Shaughnessy for his friendly attitude toward the Huerta Government.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy dined to-night with Mr. Lind aboard the battleship Michigan.

MARINE FORCE DOUBLED

Naval Developments Foreshadow More Aggressive Action.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A more aggressive policy on the part of the Wilson Administration in dealing with the Mexican situation is indicated in an order issued to-day by the Secretary of the Navy. The Secretary directs that 100 marines now stationed on the Isthmus of Panama be transferred to the east coast of Mexico.

The announcement of this doubling of the force of marines by Secretary Daniels strengthened the growing impression that the adoption of a practical policy to take the place of the present attitude of waiting for President Huerta to eliminate himself.

Considered with other recent developments relating to the Mexican situation, and particularly with reference to the prospective strength of the American naval forces in the vicinity of Mexico, the large addition to the force of marines is regarded as significant.

The belief has prevailed in certain circles in Washington for months that the policy of negotiation in dealing with Mexico would ultimately be succeeded by more aggressive measures, and the present order issued by the Secretary of the Navy is believed to foreshadow important developments that may change the aspect of affairs in the southern republic.

Complying with suggestions made by President Wilson little has been heard in Congress for months about Mexico. President Wilson informed leaders in Congress that extended discussion of the question in either house might embarrass the Administration in its efforts through

SAYS CARDEN IS TRANSFERRED.

Action Was Commendable, According to London "Daily News."

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Daily News says that although the announcement of the transfer of Sir Lionel Carden, British Minister at Mexico city, has been declared to be premature there is not the least reason to doubt its authenticity.

"The Foreign Office," says the News, "acted on the whole with commendable promptitude in the matter, and the extreme satisfaction expressed by the United States is its reward."

FLAMING FLAGPOLE IS TESTED.

Hollow Translucent Torch Spouts Fire atop New Gas Building.

A unique flagpole was put in use last night on top of the Consolidated Gas Company's new skyscraper, just completed, at Fifth street and Irving place. In daytime the pole looks about like any other of the flag bearing species, but at night it is transformed by an ingenious mechanical device into a flaming torch that can be seen for miles around, in Long Island and New Jersey.

The pole was tried out last night for the first time. It is sixty-five feet long, of a transparent composition and hollow inside. At the top it flares out in the shape of a torch. At night gas is run into the hollow interior, and when that is filled a mechanical lighting device sends flame shooting from the bottom to the spreading top. The light isn't left on all the time, but flashes on and off like electric signs.

There was some anxiety last night as to whether the thing would work the first time. It did and looked like a gigantic torch of wood, bursting into flame and then dying out.

MAN WHO "DIED" TELLS WHY HE IS NOW ALIVE

Ohio Christian Scientist Writes and Signs Statement of His Resurrection.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 8.—Cincinnatians were confronted to-day with the amazing statement of a man who although he "dropped dead" in his home and passed through the material conditions of death was restored to life. Verification was had in the shape of a signed statement issued by the man in question, who is A. J. Thorne, a locally prominent dealer in steel furniture, who lives with his wife in an attractive home in Avondale, a fashionable suburb of Cincinnati.

It had been reported that Mr. Thorne had declared at a testimony meeting of the Christian Science Church on Park avenue last night: "I dropped dead and was restored to life through Christian Science."

"Is it true that you dropped dead?" was asked of Thorne to-day.

"Yes, it is true. I did give that testimony in church. My case is not the only one in the Christian Science Church in which the dead have been restored to life. There are a number of others."

"Some years ago I became completely blind in this eye," continued Thorne. "I had to wear glasses. Now my sight has been restored to normal through Christian Science."

He then picked up a book and began to read without glasses.

His signed statement follows: "Wednesday evening at the testimony meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist remarkable testimony was given by the first reader of the church, A. J. Thorne. He testified that on last Friday he was taken suddenly ill and on Saturday morning dropped dead on the floor at his home and passed through all the material conditions of death."

"A practitioner of the Christian Science Church was called and in a short while Mr. Thorne said, he was restored to life through the Christian Science treatment, the understanding being that God is the only life. Help was called in and Mr. Thorne was picked up and carried to bed, and he now believes he is completely restored to health."

"At those meetings in the Christian Science Church testimonies are given of Christian Science healing, showing gratitude to God and to Mrs. Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, for giving to the world this great demonstrable truth."

DUKE RENTS LONDON HOUSE.

Tobacco Man Likely to Settle Permanently in England.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 8.—James B. Duke, the American tobacco man, has rented Crewe House, Lord Crewe's mansion in Curzon street, for six months, with an option to purchase it.

Crewe House is one of the few detached houses in Mayfair. It has a large garden and thirty rooms and a picture gallery, all handsomely decorated. It is said that Mr. Duke plans to settle definitely in London.

Another report denies that Mr. Duke intends to purchase Crewe House.

SUES FOR GOLF BALL BURNS.

Man Says Substance Piled Into His Face and Asks $10,000.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—The St. Mungo Manufacturing Company of Boston, maker of golf balls, is defendant in a civil suit for $10,000 filed in East Cambridge by Moyle Swiber of Newton.

Swiber alleges that the concern makes and sells a golf ball so constructed that it will burst and violently inject injurious substances when subjected to treatment which golf balls ordinarily get.

A man named Vincent was removing the cover of a ball on October 19, he asserts, when Swiber was standing near him; the ball burst and the substance inside flew into his face and eyes, badly burning them.

ORDERS INQUIRY IN ATLANTA PRISON

McReynolds to Investigate Charges First Made in "The Sun."

POLITICS IS NO FACTOR

Warden Moyer, About Whom Case Centres, Appointed by Republicans.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Department of Justice will make a special investigation of the administration of the Federal penitentiary in Atlanta as a result of the charges gathered by Representative Howard of Georgia, which were described in brief in THE SUN yesterday. Attention to conditions in the prison was first called to public attention by Julian Hawthorne's articles in THE SUN.

Following a careful examination of the evidence bearing on the treatment of prisoners and of alleged discrimination by Warden Moyer against certain guards who were appointed under the civil service law it was announced that the investigation would be ordered.

Representative Howard has already called upon the Civil Service Commission to investigate the dismissal of those guards, which he declared was summarily ordered without the formality of a hearing.

There appears to be no doubt that Congress would have been called on to investigate the charges reflecting upon the present administration of the Atlanta prison had the Department of Justice not thought fit to do so. Friends of Representative Howard in the House had asserted that they would urge this procedure.

To Send Special Investigator.

The first step in the investigation by the Department of Justice will be for Attorney-General McReynolds to designate a special representative to visit Atlanta and make observations upon the manner in which the affairs of the prison are being conducted. This special representative will at the same time endeavor to gather evidence upon the specific charges embodied in the affidavits and statements now before the Department.

The plan to be followed after this investigation by a special representative has not yet been fixed on. The Department's course will be governed by the character of the special representative's report.

There are evidences that the Attorney-General's policy will be to demand a full and free airing of conditions at the penitentiary and especially of the incidents described in the Howard data as constituting offenses against the law. His mind is entirely open toward any information that may result from the contemplated inquiry.

It was pointed out to-day that Mr. McReynolds has no reason, political or otherwise, for entertaining prejudices against evidence which might be submitted implicating Warden Moyer and his associates.

Mr. Moyer is a Republican and is an appointee of the last Administration. Had Mr. McReynolds regarded the office as of a political character, it was said, he would have removed the warden at the outset of the present Administration and appointed a Democrat. The Attorney-General, however, believes firmly that political considerations should not be allowed to enter into the management of Federal prisons.

Politics No Factor.

It had been stated that the Attorney-General believed the charges submitted by Representative Howard had been inspired by political motives. Friends of Mr. McReynolds declared emphatically to-day that such a belief, if entertained, would not be permitted to prejudice the Department against any tangible evidence that might be found in the data in hand. The data submitted by Representative Howard were examined by Assistant Attorney-General Graham. It was that official who recommended to the Attorney-General that an investigation be made.

Representative Howard summarized the charges gathered by him in the following statement:

"It is alleged that the food furnished the prisoners is inadequate; that punishments are administered out of proportion to the offense committed; that favoritism is practiced among employees and prisoners by those in authority; that the medical attention is of an inferior character, and that in the construction of the prison much waste and inefficiency are displayed."

The special representative of the Department probably will be designated as soon as possible. He will be a man with expert knowledge of prison management.

Senator Smith to Aid Howard.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia and Representative Howard had a long conference to-day concerning the request made by Mr. Howard for an inquiry into prison conditions at Atlanta. The Senator gave assurances that he would cooperate with Mr. Howard and that he believed, from what he had heard of the case, that the investigation should be ordered.

Representative Howard continues to receive letters and telegrams from various sections of the country commending his demand for an inquiry in Atlanta. Mr. Howard had as a visitor to-day O. M. Shaw, a prison guard, who was dismissed by Warden Moyer on charges of cowardice. Shaw probably will appear as a witness in the Department investigation about to be made.

"Poor food is the greatest hardship of the prisoner," said Shaw to-night. "He eats two good meals at Thanksgiving and another on Christmas. The menus are then published in the paper, and the people are foolish enough to believe that to be the daily fare. I have seen men drop down from hunger. It was a constant complaint to me as a guard

AUTO MASHERS BEAT UP TWO.

Recent Rescue of Two Girls and Attack on Defenders.

Three or four young men in an automobile called out to two young women who were walking along 16th street near Intervale avenue at 11 o'clock last night. The young women, Ruth Johnson, 18 years old, of 1182 Fox street, and Rita Roche, 17 years old, of 808 Freeman street, turned away, but the chauffeur followed them along the curb and the young men persisted in their attentions.

A few steps further on the girls met three young men, acquaintances, David Goldstein, of 771 St. Ann's avenue, David Wakes of 561 East 16th street, and Frank Smith of 412 East 16th street, and told them of their trouble. The young men stepped forward and demanded that the men in the machine leave the girls alone.

At that the occupants of the automobile jumped out, one of them hit Goldstein over the head with a blackjack, and when Miss Johnson screamed, knocked her down with a blow from the same weapon. Wakes and Smith started in to fight, and Miss Roche screamed for help. The strangers fired one shot in the air and, jumping into their machine, drove off rapidly.

The police say that they have its number.

UNFILED DECREE NEARLY SPOILS WEDDING PLANS

Court Corrects Lawyer's Eleven Year Oversight and Divorcee Gets License.

An elaborate wedding which took place last night in the ballroom of the Hotel Ansonia came near being upset at the last minute because a lawyer in a divorce case eleven years ago failed to file a final decree for the plaintiff after it had been signed.

The bridegroom was Frank L. Cohen, who has been referred to frequently as an ex-Lord Mayor of Glasgow since he came here about two years ago and who called himself Master of the Works of Glasgow. The bride was Mrs. Frances A. Harris, head of a large millinery establishment in this city. The couple were married by Rabbi Joseph Silverman of Temple Emanuel in the presence of 150 friends.

After the ceremony it was announced that letters of congratulation had been received from President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall, the Duke of Connaught, King George of England, Gov. Glynn, Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary Tumulty and Murray Guggenheim.

An exciting afternoon for the parties to the wedding began when they went to the City Clerk's office and applied for a license. Mrs. Harris told the clerk she had been divorced in 1902 from Louis Harris, and that he didn't defend the action. She said she had heard nothing from him since. The clerk told Mrs. Harris she would have to present a certified copy of her decree before she could get the license.

The couple called up Mrs. Harris's attorney, Leo R. Brillies, and he went with them to get the decree out of the court records and have a certified copy made. The decree couldn't be found, although the books of James R. P. Smith, clerk of Special Term, Part III, where undefended divorces are heard, showed that the final decree had been signed by Justice Scott, now in the Appellate Division.

Lawyer Brillies and the would-be bride and bridegroom pleaded with Clerk Smith to look through all the papers in his office and find the missing decree. The whole office force went to work, and finally it was found. Clerk Smith then made an affidavit that the decree had been signed but never filed, and this affidavit was presented to Justice Newburger, who signed an order directing the filing of the decree as of the date it was signed.

The City Clerk's office had been held open after hours to accommodate the parties, and in this way the license was obtained just in time to save the wedding planned for last night.

ORDAIN NO PADDING FOR MEN.

Tailors Decide Also on Clinging Clothes and Sober Shades.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8.—Men during 1914 will be in the modest blushing violet class in the style of his clothes, according to the predictions being planned for him by the National Association of Clothing Designers, which met in convention here to-day. The items are:

Just as little cloth as possible to frame his figure.

It will cling to his form like tight to the pony ballet.

Quiet colors, with a decided leaning toward sober shades.

Wild designs in overcoats with bat wing sleeves and horse blanket effect. Silhouette style will be the feature. Padding will be absent, as nature will be called upon to do all that is necessary in that line. The tailor will just note the measurements and follow them as a carpenter does his blue print.

WORKS 16 YEARS TO PAY DEBTS.

Elevator Starter Pinches Family to Clear His Conscience.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—For sixteen years James Conklin, an elevator starter, has labored paying off debts he contracted when he was sewing his wild oats and to-day he is making the task that his conscience had set him.

The score was settled when he went to the Michigan Central Railroad, inquired the cost of a ticket from Detroit to Bay City and paid $2.86. Twenty-one years ago, while drunk, he boarded the blind baggage of a train at Detroit and went to Bay City.

Five years later, when almost down and out, Conklin met the Rev. H. A. Torrey, the famous preacher, and his reformation began. From that day he decided to make good and to clear away all his debts. He declared that settling the debts has deprived him and his family of many comforts, but his family has never complained.

DR. KELLY SAYS BIBLE PROPHESED RADIUM

Surgeon, Expert in Its Use, Quotes Malachi, iv., 2, as Divine Promise.

ALL SCIENCE FORETOLD

Cancer He Calls Product of Immorality, and Faith Must Aid Cure.

No Trust in Radium as a Cure of Cancer

Dr. John Patrick McGowan, consulting surgeon at the French Hospital and visiting surgeon at the New York Hospital, told THE SUN yesterday that in his opinion it was time that the public was warned against faith in the cure of cancer by radium. It was a pity, he said, to mislead the public and raise hopes that could not be fulfilled.

"Radium does not cure cancer and neither is the X-ray helpful in cancer cases," said Dr. McGowan. "The Surgeons of the United States of America, in which body are the men who have most to do with cancer cases in this country, declared last year that the 'only hope' in such cases was in an early surgical operation."

Dr. McGowan said that he had witnessed the effect of radium as used on cancer patients as long ago as 1906 and that he had seen patients "disintegrate and go to pieces" under the treatment, but had witnessed no beneficial effects.

"There is not a cancer research institution in the world," he said, "but what has reported that we are to-day exactly where we were twenty years ago in our knowledge of the cause and treatment of cancer."

The union of the religious and the scientific mind—the man who uses and makes discoveries in science and yet believes in the Bible word for word, who says that the parables in the Bible have foretold all that science has and will learn and who believes that the kingdom of God will be the perfection of science and religion—was found yesterday in Dr. Howard A. Kelly, surgeon and cancer specialist, who has accomplished so much by the use of radium.

In a talk on "Radium and Religion" before the Bible Teachers Training School in the afternoon he asserted that the Old Testament refers to radium and its curative powers, and he outlined the spiritual significance of the new metal, giving science a background of religion, he told of the virtues of radium in the treatment of some, not all, cases of cancer.

He warned the public to beware of false radium tubes; he discussed the causes of cancer as being probably due to immorality—using the word in the broad sense as referring to violations of the physical as well as spiritual laws.

In setting out to connect scientific facts with the Bible Dr. Kelly asserted he believed "in the Bible and every word in it," but at the same time he was aware that his attitude did not meet with the approval of the great majority of scientists.

Prophecy of Radium.

"In the light of therapy in the last fifteen years," he said, "we who are Christians have found in the Bible many things that suggest remarkable prophecies. For instance, Malachi, chapter iv., verse 2, 'Unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in his wings.' Dr. Kelly referred to that verse as indicating radium and its power. He added that 'God deals with us in parables.'"

The doctor quoted other parts of the Scriptures to show a connection between God and nature, between thought and the material world, to support his theory that in the Bible are scientific facts which the spiritual man discover and which exceed even what already has been learned by scientists. He called the Bible a heavenly dictionary with which to interpret science.

"In the kingdom age," he said, "scientific knowledge will be looked at as the cradle of our knowledge. We will realize that mind is behind all these things and that there is one relationship between God and these things."

The speaker referred next to the world as a place that had been prepared by God for man. He called the earth the storehouse of God's mind. "God is to be found," he said, "not so much in law as in the grace and loveliness of nature. God gave all these things to nature, not for animals and lower beings but for man to discover and to utilize."

He referred to radium as one of the things that God had stored in the earth, just as diamonds and other precious stones, for the use of man.

Science's Theories Upset.

The doctor described the substance and the three different kinds of rays that it gave off. "These rays," he said, "tear through everything, even atoms." He then explained how radium had destroyed the atomic theory which scientists had unfolded so exactly. "Radium," he said, "showed that an atom, which scientists said was the smallest thing in the world and was indivisible, was made up of many thousand little particles; that within an atom there are solar systems, so to speak, and if on these particles there are living beings, they grow up and become old in the millionth part of a second."

Dr. Kelly told of the third set of rays, or the gamma rays of light from radium that are used in certain cases of cancer.

1,332,200 LANDED HERE IN 1913.

852,854 Steerage Passengers Came Through Ellis Island.

In the year just ended, according to statistics completed yesterday by William C. Moore, landing agent at Ellis Island, 1,332,200 passengers arrived at this port, 852,854 coming in the steerage. The steamships of twenty-six lines brought here 148,956 first cabin passengers and 230,419 second cabin passengers. The North German Lloyd line got the biggest share of the business, carrying from northern Europe 175,693 passengers, including 16,268 first and 28,341 second cabin passengers. The Hamburg-American line was next to the North German Lloyd, having brought to this port from northern Europe 162,937 passengers, including 13,308 first cabin and 28,827 second cabin passengers.

The four lines, composing the International Marine's fleet plying between New York and northern Europe, landed 210,064 passengers of all classes here. The Cunard line brought in the largest number of passengers, 46,658, from the Adriatic and the Mediterranean.

GARIBALDI'S LIFE IN MOVIES.

Mascagni, Composer, to Write Music for Production.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. MILAN, Jan. 8.—Prof. Ferri has arranged with Signor Sonzogno, the noted music publisher, for the production, in moving pictures, of episodes of the life of Garibaldi. Pietro Mascagni, composer of "Cavalleria Rusticana," has agreed to write music for the production.

FORGOT BERMUDA IS FOREIGN.

Mrs. Gilchrist Surprised When Asked to Ruler $500 Worth of Hats.

Mrs. William Gilchrist, who lives at the Plaza Hotel, returned from Bermuda last night by the Royal Mail liner Arcadian with five hats adorned with plumage of wild birds. The law prohibits the importation of such plumage, and Mrs. Gilchrist was asked to deliver it to the customs men. She was told that she might strip the plumage off herself, she said this would spoil the hats, and therefore decided to give up both the hats and plumage, which she valued at $500.

Mrs. Gilchrist said she bought the hats in New York and took them to Bermuda with her, unmindful that the islands are not a part of the United States. She and her husband will appeal to Collector Malone to-day. Mrs. Gilchrist hopes that the hats may be restored to her after the Collector considers her appeal.

AQUEDUCT NEARLY COMPLETED.

Last Wall in Catskill Tube May Be Blasted Out to-day.

The $162,000,000 Catskill Aqueduct, which is to furnish pure mountain water to New York city, is nearing completion. Only about ten feet of rock still remained in the tube at 149th street and St. Nicholas place when the workmen finished last night, and this may be blasted out to-day.

The blasting out of this wall will be the most difficult part of the contract. It is the last link to be opened, although the work was begun two and a half years ago, at the time the other sections were started. Numerous slides and peculiar rock formations have been encountered and it was here that sixty workmen were trapped 400 feet under ground in the fire last August.

Although the blowing out of this last wall will open the tube it will probably be months before water from the Catskills is actually being drawn in New York homes.

TAFT FOR CHIEF JUSTICE.

Wilson Said to Be Considering Him as White's Successor.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 8.—It was said here to-night by a New Haven man who had just returned from Pass Christian that President Wilson is considering the appointment of ex-President Taft as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court to succeed Chief Justice White when the latter retires.

Mr. Taft was asked to-night if he would make any comment on the announcement. He replied:

"I must ask to be excused from commenting on the matter."

When questioned whether or not he would accept the place if offered to him Mr. Taft begged to be excused from discussing the subject at all.

JUMP IN IDLE FREIGHT CARS.

Increase of 88,000 to Total of 100,521 in Last Fortnight.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The most remarkable fortnightly increase of several years in the number of idle freight cars throughout the country has caused much comment here. There were 199,521 surplus cars on January 1, an increase of 82,008 cars as compared with the total on December 15 last.

Compared with the same period a year ago the present surplus shows an increase of 129,86
